

An Open Access Dentistry Procedure Code Set

Introduction:

The following presents an open access, open source, public domain, not copyrighted, royalty-free dental procedure code set. This open access code set is not currently endorsed by any dental insurance companies or claim submission clearinghouses that process dental claims. This open access dental code set is not recognized as a standard HIPPA code set. This open access dental code set cannot be used to submit any dental claims unless a dental insurance company that receives such claims agrees to recognize this open access dental code set or a specific derivation of the open access dental code set. Therefore, this open access dental code set is for informational or entertainment purposes only.

Anyone may edit or otherwise modify the open source code set or expand it or subtract from it. However, an author or group or corporation, that modifies this open access dental code set and uses it to derive their own dental code set, should explicitly indicate who or what entity is the author, and what is the version number of the derivation. This is needed to identify that author or entity's specific derivation of the open access code set if, for example, a specific derivation is recognized as a standard open access dental code set for purposes of submitting dental claims or for any other purpose.

The original version of this open source dental code set was compiled by John Mamoun, DMD. The following are the main codes for the Open Access Dental Code set, Mamoun compilation, version 1.0, September 2013 (Some codes are listed redundantly in this code set, in order to create groupings of codes to improve the convenience of billing and the ease of looking up codes):
